Oasis Public School System:

My argument is over how we should let programmers around the world develop an Oasis public school system because it can help change how students feel about school in general. My reason for writing this is because when it comes to school most people don't like it cause it's too much to get up and go there but with Oasis anyone can do it from anywhere. Also most students are visual learners and with the Oasis public school people can see historical events to study for a test. Then if students have social anxiety this can help because they don't have to worry about getting hurt.

Programmers around the world should make an Oasis public school because it can change the way students socialize and interact with each other. In the book Wade talks about how Oasis public school made him have a better time at school, like how he never has to worry about getting hurt and not have social anxiety. He talks about how there are no fights cause it is a program not let interactive fights. For example, when Wade was at school some guy was bullying him but Wade wasn't worried because it's a no pvp zone plus Wade had some come back. Also when Wade was getting bullied he just muted the guy which students can do if someone is being annoying to them. When someone gets to class they can access a button called engaged which lets students search anything they want but only the person can see. So Wade shows how the Oasis is safe for people that are scared of socializing and fights and gives them less anxiety about school bullies, and thinking about getting hurt in this school doesn't come to mind.

Another reason why they should make an online public school is because they can have virtual field trips anywhere without leaving the school grounds. The reason for this is because we can go anywhere in the world without having to buy tickets, pack stuff up, and get a place in that city. Also, if the students are visual learners then it will be better for them and if students wanna be the best in a subject or in future career. For example, "During Wade's world history class the teacher loaded up a full simulation of King Tut's tomb in 1922". Same with other classes they show full simulation of past events they can use to teach, like in science class they can show a simulation of the human heart so future doctors can get more visual experience instead of staring at a book. Also in astronomy class, they can show the climate on different planets like Jupiter with its red tornado and storms. Plus in english if the students are reading a book they can pull a video of it and see how the story plays out. When it comes to school everyone's favorite thing is going on field trips, but with online public school they can take it to another level of adventure and if the students are trying to go deep into learning a subject like in medical they can see how some parts of the body works in a full simulation.

Programmers around the world should make an Oasis public school because it can change the way students can study and how teachers teach. The reason is because teachers can just show up without leaving their house and just teach but students can interrupt them and talk back to them so they can teach peacefully. Also, when it comes to making sure students don't leave class they can alert if anyone is not focused. The teacher is pretty much great because they didn't have to spend half their time as babysitter and disciplinarians. For example, whenever a student moves away from their desk. It gives an alert sound and everyone can hear, so students can't even leave if they want to. Also, when students cuss it shows a warning to their screen and mutes their screen before anyone hears it, which is another example of a teacher not worrying about babysitting. This proves my claim because when it comes to teaching in real life it's hard to see if the students are focused and not being distracted, but in the Oasis public school there's no need to worry.

To recap on everything, my reason for having an online public school is because it would be better for the teachers because they can teach without babysitting every student. Also, it's better for students because a lot of students have anxiety over being bullied and having fights but with this they don't have to worry and it's better for a field trip with full simulation. So when it comes to making this new school system it can benefit both students and teachers in a way that we can't even imagine.
